MArshal Khevenhuller died here last Monday Night, after ten Days Illness, of a Spitting of Blood and Inflammation. He is much regretted by every body, having been beloved by the Court, the People, and the Army. Marshal Traun will serve under Prince Charles in his Room. The Recruiting goes on here successfully. The Bohemian Militia is forming, which will consist of Eighteen Thousand Men: Experienced Captains, Lieutenants, Serjeants, and Corporals, are to discipline them. They are raised by the Nobility; and five or six Thousand will be also formed in Moravia. The Army to march out of this Country will consist of Seventy five Thousand German Troops, Eighteen Thousand Croates, and Colonel Trenck's Pandours augmented to Two Thousand Five Hundred. From Thirty to Forty Thousand Men will be left in these Countries; and the Army in Italy will be soon Thirty Thousand at least. We hear from thence, that the Spanish General M. de Gages is much distressed for Provisions, since the Arrival of the British Ships in the Adriatick.

Brussels, Feb. 1, N. S. Count François de Harrach set out hence on Thursday the 30th past for London, in order to notify the Marriage of the Prince of Lorrain to his Majesty. The Government is very intent upon reforming many Abuses which have crept in, both in the Practice of the Law, in the Publick Monies, and Policy of this Place, with Regard to all which severe Placarts are shortly to appear.
